

DEWITT'S MEN ADD 86 TO CENSUS FIGURES

His Volunteer Investigators Turn In 213 Names and Enumerators Remember 127 of Them—Report Goes To Steady With Request That Washington Correct Figures.

To the Citizens of Kingston:

The investigation as to the number of persons not enumerated during the period of January 2nd—24th, in the U. S. census for 1920 was completed late Saturday evening, March 20th. The report, with duplicate, and my findings and conclusions, have been forwarded to J. J. Steady at Cobleskill, recommending that same be sent to Washington and urging that the unenumerated persons, bona-fide citizens of Kingston, after comparison with original tally sheets of the enumerators and ascertaining that they are not shown thereon, be added to the population of Kingston by means of individual census slip Form 9-301.

On the whole, the enumerators have done well and with hardly an exception have been diligent in assisting Supervisor Steady and myself to bring to light any discrepancies.

The result, as per summary herewith, shows that 213 names of alleged unenumerated citizens were reported. After examination of these lists by most of the enumerators, it is admitted that 86 are not on the canvass tally sheets at the Census Bureau, according to the best recollection of the enumerators.

By the use of individual census slip 9-301, if the Bureau accepts Supervisor Steady's recommendation, at least 86 of these 217 will be added to Kingston's population, together with any others which may be discovered, during the filling out of these slips by the enumerators here in Kingston.

Our city will thus show a slight gain as compared with the 1910 figures, perhaps an increase of several hundred.

Thanking the public and the press, Respectfully,
WM. C. DE WITT
Postmaster

GOVERNMENT MAY DISTRIBUTE BOOZE

Commissioner Williams—Upon Succeeding Roper, WPI Consider Proposal For Government Dispensaries—Doctors and Druggists Shy At Duties Involved And Drys Are Disappointed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 22.—The proposal to establish government liquor dispensaries, where whiskey and wines may be legally bought, under certain restrictions, will be considered by William M. Williams, at the outset of his administration as internal revenue commissioner, which begins April 1. Williams will be urged to make definite recommendations to congress for amendment of the Volstead act, to allow establishment of dispensaries, under government supervision.

Daniel C. Roper, who retires from the post within a few days, probably will not decide the issue, but will leave it to his successor.

Unexpected support of the plan has come from numerous "dry" leaders. The prohibitionists believe the government dispensary idea may help to check violations of the national prohibition law.

Dry leaders are particularly disappointed over the failure of exemptions relating to the legal procurement of liquor.

Internal revenue bureau records show doctors and druggists generally have not availed themselves to permit privileges, because of the onerous duties imposed in book-keeping and making returns.

RAILWAY WAGE SETTLEMENT LAGS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 22.—Discussion of railroad labor's demands was renewed today by the bi-partisan committee of railway executives and labor representatives, after a two weeks recess.

The conferees found that little progress had been made thus far in getting down to a "working basis" in the negotiations.

Railway executives showed they are rather reticent under the delay in reaching agreement upon a mode of procedure. They are anxious to dispose of the wage problem, even though they must consent to wage advances in some directions.

300 MADE ILL BY CITY WATER

Cambridge, Mass. March 22.—At least three hundred residents of this city, including 60 high school pupils, are ill, the victims of infected drinking water. No fatal results have been reported, and the city officials are taking every precaution to prevent further infection.

It is believed the city's water supply became polluted by foreign materials, carried by melting snow and ice.

DEMOCRATS CAN'T NAME HOOVER

In View of His Stand For Ratification, Is View In Capital—Bryan, Gerard and Others Gone By The Board Too As Result of Senate Action—Treaty Issue May Cause Big Split At Convention.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 22.—Herbert Hoover's chance of being nominated for the presidency by the Democratic party, it was said here today, has gone glimmering, swept high and dry by the same tidal wave which swung the treaty of Versailles into the campaign.

Either that, it was said, or the delegates at the San Francisco convention must repudiate the actions of the administration, which, it was admitted, would foredoom the party to defeat.

The same is said to be true of the chances of William Jennings Bryan, Governor Cox, Senator Owen, Ambassador Gerard and all other Democrats who favored the ratification of the treaty as modified by the Lodge reservations.

Henceforth, it is pointed out, great danger threatens the party, due to the clash between the Democrats who stood by the president and those who did not. Political forecasters have run up warnings of a serious storm at San Francisco and say a schism can be averted there only by a miracle.

The following facts are pointed out:

1.—Hoover has irrevocably placed himself on the side of those who desire ratification of the treaty on the best terms possible.

2.—Bryan last week came to Washington purposely to urge the Democrats to vote for the treaty, Lodge reservations and all.

3.—Senator Owen, candidate on his own for the presidential nomination, with twenty other Democratic senators, placed himself at odds with the administration and its leaders, by refusing to "stand by the party" and vote against the Lodge reservations.

On the other hand, it is observed:

1.—President Wilson will stand pat on his original proposition, demanding the ratification of the treaty practically as it came from Paris, or throw it into the campaign.

2.—Behind the president is the national Democratic committee, which on Jackson Day, in Washington, unanimously went on record as backing up the administration and its record.

Between these two factions, observers declare, a violent row is to be expected when they come to name a standard bearer at the San Francisco convention.

The one side inevitably will demand the nomination of a candidate who will pledge himself to accept ratification of the modified treaty as voted by the twenty-one Democrats in the senate Friday night.

The other, the Wilson faction, must insist upon a nominee pledged to go before the voters of the country demanding the ratification of the treaty of Versailles without serious modifications.

Should the San Francisco convention nominate a candidate known to favor the Lodge reservations, many consider, it would amount to repudiating the leadership of President Wilson and a public act of disapproval of his administration.

Political bookmakers, therefore, foresee the outcropping of such political possibilities as Bryan, Hoover, Cox, Owen, Gerard and any who would accept the Lodge reservations, in favor of such men as William C. McAdoo, Attorney General Palmer and others whose minds are known to be in accord with that of President Wilson.

For this state of affairs blame is placed by many party men directly upon the forcing of the treaty into the campaign as an issue. Had the pact not been thrust into the fight as the main bone of contention, it is said, the Democrats would have been free to nominate anybody they happened to choose. As it stands, many declare, their choice will be very restricted, unless any wavering from the slight and narrow path of the treaty issue will be interpreted as acknowledgment that the administration has erred.

All hope is not yet gone, however, that the treaty may yet be brought to a halt before the senate and ratified, thus removing it from the campaign at least as the paramount question.

Memorial Service for Mrs. Myers.

At a meeting of the W. C. T. U. held Thursday afternoon, a brief memorial service was held for the late Mrs. Abraham Myers. Mrs. Myers was universally loved and was a loyal member of the W. C. T. U. She lived to attend the meetings, which she did until a short time before her death. Mrs. A. Myers said a solo, "I Will Sing You a Song of That Beautiful Land." Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Keefe sang a very appropriate duet. The service was in charge of Mrs. Leonard Blomgren, who paid a loving tribute to the deceased.

LEGISLATURE PLAYS POLITICS

Important Problems At Albany Will Be Settled By Lawmakers Whose Main Object Is To Get Back Another Year—Gibbs in Open Revolt Against Sweet On Prohibition Laws.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, March 23.—Politics is dominating every important bit of legislation pending enactment in the legislature.

Prohibition, and anti-prohibition, rent, party conventions, the welfare legislation and similar measures of importance to the people will be disposed of with a decided political complexion by the politicians anxious to take a higher step in the people's confidence.

With the paramount thought of not only the leaders but many of the members who are thinking not of legislation that is before them but rather how they can get back another year or receive greater political preferment from the voters, the Republican majority in past years as solid as the German phalanxes were in the early part of the war, is beginning to break under the strain and insurgency in the ranks is threatening both Majority Leader Walters of the senate and Speaker Sweet of the assembly.

Prohibition enforcement and the so-called liberal measures designed to give at least three and one-half percent beer is one of the storm centers. In the assembly Colonel Ransom H. Gillett, Republican from Columbia county, has initiated open revolt against the dictatorship of Speaker Sweet. He is leading the fight in the lower house for beer and light wines, and in a statement directed to the other members of assembly urging them to support his bill, call attention to the domination of politics in the following language:

"For believe me, my dear sir," says his latest statement to the assemblymen, "if the letters I am getting from all over the state are any criterion, I don't want to run for office in New York state this fall on a dry record, in this assembly. First, because I will be lonesome, and second, because I will be licked."

This legislature sees not only the majority in the house split but also visualizes a chasm between the two strong men in the legislature—Majority Leader Walters in the senate and Speaker Sweet in the assembly. Walters is frank in his support of a beer measure. He is somewhat skeptical of passage of the wine bill. Speaker Sweet, on the other hand, is just as frank in his opposition to both measures.

Gubernatorial ambitions also are dominating the action of the legislature on the rent bills. Speaker Sweet and Senator Charles C. Lockwood of Brooklyn, chairman of the housing committee, have had a falling out over the authorship of these bills.

IT WAS BENSON WHO TOLD SIMS

Not to Let British Pull Wool Over His Eyes—Sims Says Benson, Who Appointed Him Abroad, Is Prejudiced Against British—Says Daniels' Memory Is Poor.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 22.—Admiral William S. Benson, chairman of the shipping board and chief of naval operations during the war, was named by Admiral Sims today as the one who told him "not to let the British pull the wool over his eyes" as he left Washington at the outset of the war to assume charge of naval activities on the other side. Admiral Sims made this statement before the subcommittee of the naval affairs committee of the senate.

Admiral Sims described his interview in the office of Secretary Daniels when he received his orders to go abroad as the United States entered the war against Germany. He said in substance, Secretary Daniels told him that he was to confer with British naval officials on the other side and report to the department in Washington what was needed over there.

"In his testimony on the awards," said Admiral Sims, "the secretary of the navy said he mentioned the incident of my 'previous indiscretion' at this conference in his office. The secretary's memory fails him. No one reminded me of that incident."

Admiral Sims referred to his "pro-British speeches" for which he was censured some years ago and said that the "previous indiscretion" mentioned by the secretary referred to this affair.

He was asked to name the man who told him not to "let the British pull the wool over his eyes."

"It was in the office of the bureau of navigation," he said. "The man who told me that was Admiral Benson. I received no instructions. The advice was not preceded by any conversation with Admiral Benson and was not followed by any. He simply made the remark."

"Later, in London, he repeated this remark. Six months later in Paris he made the same statement. I had completely forgotten these statements, but was reminded of them by an aide. I did not mean to go into personalities, but I attributed Admiral Benson's remarks to personal prejudices against the British."

Admiral Sims said that Admiral Benson is known to be prejudiced against the British and said he attributed his advice to this attitude, and thought that there was nothing personal in it.

He pointed out that he owed his position as commander of the naval forces on the other side to Admiral Benson and that the latter had brought down criticism on himself by appointing Admiral Sims over the heads of other officers.

DOCK STRIKERS

ROB ATTEMPTED TO OPEN CHANNEL

This Morning the Tug Got as Far as Mouth of Rondout Creek, but River Ice Is Too Heavy to Break Through—Lower Creek Now Open—Snow Wasting Fast.

This morning the Cornell Line tug Rob made another unsuccessful attempt to open a channel through the river ice, but only succeeded in getting as far as the mouth of the Rondout creek. The ice in the river is over a foot thick and it will take warm weather to waste it sufficiently to break a channel through for the ferry transport.

The lower creek is now open from the Skilypot channel to the light house. The ice floating out had formed a gorge at the mouth of the creek, but the Rob was able to break through until she reached the river ice where she was forced to stop. If the weather continues favorable she will undoubtedly make another attempt later on.

Sunday was an ideal spring day, and the snowfall of last Friday and Saturday rapidly disappeared under the rays of Old Sol. In many streets in the city, especially those where the street department had shoveled out, bare ground has appeared. Wagons and automobiles are now running in the place of sleds.

SAYS WOOD HAS BIG "BARREL"

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 22.—Without offering any circumstantial proof of its charges, the New York World today publishes a long article claiming that the presidential boom of General Leonard Wood is "underwritten" by a number of millionaire Republicans. Here are some of the World's statements:

Dan R. Hanna, of Cleveland, was initial promoter of the Wood boom and undertook to raise a $1,000,000 fund.

John L. King raised and disbursed $101,000. The fund was to have been $1,000,000, made up of contributions of ten men of $100,000 each.

The World claims to have possession of information showing that the following men "participated in the underwriting of the syndicate:

Edward L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company and directors of other companies, railways and banks.

Ambrose Monell, director of banks and other corporations.

Harry F. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Oil and Refining Company and other corporations.

H. M. Ely, officer and director in twenty-nine transportation and other corporations.

W. B. Thompson, copper magnate, director in federal reserve bank and officer and director in many corporations.

Dan R. Hanna, capitalist of Cleveland, O.

E. S. Mathers, capitalist of New York City.

A. A. Sprague, head of largest wholesale grocery house in Chicago and director in many corporations.

WAR TO POSSESS BERLIN CONTINUES

No Mercy Shown by Spartacists, Communists or Government Forces as Fighting Proceeds in Various Sections—Government Troops Mass to Protect Buildings.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, March 21.—(Midnight)—"A war without quarter" has begun for control of Berlin.

A violent pitched battle was fought between Spartacists and government troops in the Adlershof district of the city (where the working classes live).

The Communists overpowered a company of government volunteers and all of the officers were put to death.

Twenty Communists were killed.

The ministry of defense later announced that "twenty-four Communist leaders had been shot against the wall."

The Communists are accused of torturing army officers who fell into their hands.

Government troops are being massed in the city for defense of the government buildings. The troops in the northern part of Berlin have been drawn behind the Spree river and the Hohenzollern canal.

A drizzle of rain, accompanied by fog, set in last night. Flashes from rifles and machine guns punctured the murk in the suburbs.

It is regarded as significant here that the Spartacists were able to defeat the crack government troops in Westphalia. Two regiments of national guard troops were forced to fight their way through Oberhausen and Duisberg to the Weisel. One regiment lost ten officers killed and the other three officers. The guns which could not be taken along were destroyed by the soldiers; others fell into the hands of the Communists.

Assembly Judiciary Committee Will Make Recommendations by Wednesday—Nine of Thirteen Members Favor Expulsion of Socialists.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 22.—The fate of the five Socialists under indictment for alleged disloyalty to the country and of the Socialist party which during eight weeks of investigation by a legislative committee shared the indictment, will be determined this week.

The judiciary committee of thirteen which conducted the inquiry is scheduled to make its recommendations as to whether the Socialists should be expelled or reelected on Wednesday. There will be a majority report, which is being written by Chairman Louis M. Martin, and at least three minority reports. Committeemen Evans, Bloch and Pellet are expected to file individual minority reports, with the possibility of Committeeman Stitt adding his individual views.

Beginning tomorrow the members of the committee will lock themselves in their quarters to thresh out the report. Each committeeman has been asked to file an individual report with the chairman when they meet tomorrow. At least nine of these reports will follow the same line—recommending expulsion of the five Socialists, and little trouble is expected to line all the nine men back of Chairman Martin's report. The members will absent themselves by permission from even the legislative sessions so that their report may be framed without delay and turned in to the assembly.

When the report is finally before the assembly, at least two days will be required to explain votes before the final momentous roll call is taken.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Icelandic Trawling Perilous.

Compared with the hardships of Icelandic trawling, North sea boats are always in a haven. From October to March blizzards of snow and sleet sweep the Icelandic regions, and from December to the end of January there is only an hour or two of daylight. Icelandic vessels are much larger than North sea trawlers, and so marked is the difference between the two operations that an Icelandic skipper rarely works the North sea, and vice versa.

Used Beer to Mix Mortar.
In England, in the days when beer was cheaper than it is now, it sometimes served to mix mortar, which was supposed to enhance the durability of the buildings where it was used. Moreover, mortar could be made with beer during frosty weather, when water could not be used. William Andrews the antiquarian, says in his "Famous Frosts," that "a tradition still lingered in Derbyshire respecting the famousness of the beer of Hardwick to the effect that a fortune teller told her that her death would not happen so long as she continned building. She caused to be erected several noble structures, including Hardwick and Charsworth

Her death occurred in 1607, during a very severe frost, when the workmen could not continue their labors, although they mixed their mortar with Uganda's Fauna.

Fauna of Uganda is probably unequalled in variety and importance in any other country in the world. On the lakes are found a great number of water birds, storks, cranes, herons, flamingoes, geese, and ducks, but the finest are perhaps the huge eagles which prey on the fish, of which there is a great variety. Hippopotami and crocodiles haunt all the waters in the country. On land, elephants are found in large numbers; buffaloes are found leopards and wildcats inhabit the woods, where smaller creatures such as squirrels, gray parrots, monkeys and wild cats are found in the

Home Candy Making

Not many years ago everybody made candy at home.

Now the fashion of home candy making has returned. All kinds are made at home, from the molasses variety that is pulled to fudge or creams. Richness in candy demands some fat. Butter is too expensive, lard compounds leave their mixed flavors and odors.

The best candy shortening is SALANUT—refined virgin peanut oil,—the same oil you use in frying, baking or salad making.

Peanut Fudge

2 teaspoons SALANUT 2 cups brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla ½ tablespoon salt
1 cup chipped peanuts 1 cup milk

Boil the milk, sugar, SALANUT and salt until it will form a hard ball when tested in cold water. Remove from fire, stir in the flavoring and nuts and beat until creamy. Pour into a pan oiled with SALANUT and as it cools mark it in squares.

SALVATION ARMY REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

Announcements have been placed in various windows of the stores in the city telling of the coming of Evangelist (Eavor) George Elliot to the Salvation Army Hall for a special series of revival meetings. Captain Young announces that the Evangelist is a man of God and a speaker of ability. He comes here directly from a very successful campaign at Saratoga, the campaign winding up in that city tonight. Eavor Elliot is arriving at a time when the regular meetings at the Army are going with a swing and proving of especial interest. He will take advantage of this spirit and it is predicted that he will crowd the small hall on North Front street to capacity before he has finished his meetings.

The campaign opens tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and will continue until Easter Sunday, April 4th, with meetings every night with the exception of next Monday. The new band, composed of fourteen pieces, which is rendering excellent service, will furnish special music on each Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Every night there will be special singing as well as music. It is hoped that the weather will moderate sufficiently to allow the Salvationists to come upon the streets and conduct their usual open air or street meetings, whereby many hundreds would be enabled to hear the envoy who could not do so in any other way. There will be no entertainment furnished in any way, as only a desperate soul saving effort is considered. All the Christian friends of the Salvation Army are asked to attend those meetings when it is convenient to do so and to lend all the aid possible to making the meetings a success.

Trout Season Opens

The trout season opens in the Catskills on Saturday, April 3, and unless the weather is unseasonably warm between now and then fishermen predict there will be few speckled beauties taken on the open day. The streams are ice and snow bound or where they have opened, are over their banks. Fishermen say it will take two weeks of continued warm weather to get rid of enough snow to permit following the streams. The trout season is from April 3 to August 31, both inclusive. An angler may not take more than ten pounds as a day's catch.

State May Do Towing

Owners of barges who reside in this city and who "boat" on the state canals will be interested in a bill introduced in the senate on Saturday by Senator Henry M. Sage which may put the state into the canal towing business. The measure authorizes the commissioner of public works to provide towing facilities for use on the state canals, the commissioner to establish a scale of towing fares. Encouragement of the use of the canals is the design of the bill.

Men who are not satisfied with what does for others—it is, for you that Kuppenheimer, Hickey-Freeman, United, Ford Policy Clothes are made!

If these wonderful institution of fine clothes-makers should go out of business tomorrow, other makers would supply the deficiency in volume.

But we question very much if any other houses ever could supply the inspiration to higher standards of workmanship which is Kuppenheimer's, Hickey-Freeman's, United, Ford Policy largest contribution to clothes.

Each season they create new standards of excellence, putting in the shade all that has gone before!

Each season, their efforts are looked for, as eagerly as the literary world waits for a new book by Wells, or flocks to see the latest play by Barrie.

They stand alone and isolated from competition by a reputation for great workmanship, which gets greater as each season rolls around, and which is at its greatest this present Spring.

How Can I Save Money?

Wise buying means economy.

The way to buy wisely is to read the advertisements

- because advertised products are good products.
- because merchants tell you of their bargains thru advertisements.
- because almost every new opportunity is offered thru an advertisement.
- because practically every unusual buy is advertised.
- because you save time and trouble by choosing what you want and where to get it from the advertisements instead of hunting all over town.

How can I save money? By reading the advertisements.

Not today only.

But every day.

You'll save money by keeping up with every opportunity to get full value in buying — by reading the advertisements regularly!

K. OF C. PLEDGE FULLEST AID

300 Members of Council No. 275, After Mass at St. Joseph's, Hear Father Briody Attack "Reds" and Campaign for Catholic Charities is Explained in Detail.

At the 8 o'clock Mass in St. Joseph's Church on Sunday morning about 300 members of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, attended and received Holy Communion. During the Mass hymns were sung by the K. of C. choir, under the direction of Dennis A. Quilly. After Mass the Knights adjourned to St. Joseph's Hall, where a beautiful breakfast was served by Captain Ketterer.

The several speakers at the breakfast were introduced by Grand Knight Edward J. Cullen, who acted as toastmaster.

The first speaker, Rev. John H. Briody, rector of St. Joseph's Church, delivered a powerful address, at the close of which he was vigorously applauded. Father Briody attacked Socialism and Bolshevism, showed what they both were doing in and to Europe, and predicted that in the event of such happenings in this country the Knights of Columbus would prove a formidable barrier to these radical and destructive forces.

After the breakfast, Father Briody paid a glowing tribute to the war record of the K. of C., and stated that the order would maintain that record in peace. He congratulated the members present on their large attendance at Communion.

Attorney Robert J. Howard, the second speaker, very clearly and in detail proved the effect of Catholicism on the civilization of the world, and more specifically in America. Mr. Howard's address was warmly applauded.

Past District Deputy John E. Mahar most ably expounded the principles on which the Knights of Columbus were organized, told of the wonderful work the order had done, and is now doing, and promised that its members would always be ready and willing to aid in the fight against radicalism and the destroyers of virtue and religion.

Following Mr. Mahar's address, Hon. Andrew J. Cook, chairman of the speaker's committee, and Frank P. Messinger, chairman of the committee on teams, reminded the Knights of the campaign to be carried on in this city, and in every parish in the archdiocese of New York, for the purpose of obtaining funds for Catholic charitable requirements. Both speakers explained the plan and scope of the campaign in detail. Mr. Messinger then announced the names of the captains of the various wards in the city, and stated that he expected the Knights to get behind this campaign and make it a huge success.

Grand Knight Cullen, in behalf of the council, stated that Kingston Council would assist in this campaign in every way possible, and had already offered the use of its home as headquarters for the campaign, which offer had been accepted.

The meeting, which was one of the largest attended and most enthusiastic in years, was then closed with prayer by Father Briody.

ESTATES OF DEAD MEN BRING PENNIES

Woman in Black, Auction Fiend at Morgue, Gets Most of Articles.

The estates of dead men sold for pennies at St. Paul, Minn.

Behind a marble table in the county morgue the coroner disposed by auction of the pitiful fragments of property left by St. Paul's unknown dead in 1919.

When relatives or near friends of those whose bodies are brought to the morgue make no claim to their "estates" the law requires public sale.

"That watch," said the coroner, and held it up, battered, worth $1 once, "stopped when its owner died. It says ten minutes to ten."

"Maybe that was his zero hour," commented a woman in black. "I bid 20 cents."

Then came the razor an old man used to slit his throat. The bidding was high, but the woman in black, confirmed auction fiend, bought it for 75 cents.

There was a knife. "A little rusty," said the coroner. "I think we found this fellow in the river."

Post cards, bits of cloth, a bottle opener, keys, a locket with a broken back—all the things that meant in their own private way much—maybe all to some one once, were heaped on the marble slab and pawed over by the woman in black and her rival bidders, then sold by the state for copper and silver.

"Two estates left," announced the auctioneer. "I don't suppose anybody wants this."

He held up the soiled, blood-stained discharge paper of James Alton, one-time soldier of the land.

"I'll take that. Here's a dime," snapped a bidder with two gold stripes on his sleeve. My American Legion post'll try to find his folks."

"And this," continued the coroner and carried to view a bedraggled Bible, its imitation leather puffed and swollen by moisture.

"Gimme," barked the woman in black. "I want that. I bid 15 cents." She carried away the Bible that once was Ole Johnson's.

"He gave his heart to God at the Union Gospel mission December 2, 1914," was the fading legend on the fly-leaf.

Shape of Shells.

"Modern long-range shells are ellipsoidal. They taper both at the front and at the rear. This tapering of the rear end is called 'boat-tailing.' You have noticed that racing automobiles have torpedo-shaped sterns. A square-tailed shell or automobile is actually held back at high speeds because of the vacuum created behind it by the velocity of its movement. Tapering the tail leads the air gently and easily into the hole that the shell or the racing car bores in the atmosphere and thus lessens vacuum's impeding grip on the flying object."—Everybody's Magazine.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's Vapo-Rub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vick's are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

HAS LARGEST MEDICAL PRACTICE IN WORLD AND ISN'T A DOCTOR

He Is Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance and He Has 641,000 Patients Out of a Potential Clientele of 5,000,000—
Has 10,000 Sick People in Hospital—His "Practice"
Includes Both Men and Women.

Who has the largest medical practice in the world? Unless one has kept accurately abreast of the times it would prove exceedingly difficult to answer this question, but he who has 641,000 patients drawn from a potential clientele of over 5,000,000 and constantly over 10,000 sick people in hospital, must certainly be considered as having an exceedingly flourishing practice.

Oddly enough the man who is responsible for this practice is not the doctor. He is the director of the bureau of war risk insurance, Col. E. G. Cholmeley-Jones, who has been made responsible for the conduct of these operations by a series of exceedingly broad-minded and generous acts which have been passed in connection with the rehabilitation of the human soldier and jetsam of the war with Germany. His "practice" includes both men and women. It embraces 46,000 cases of tuberculosis, more than 70,000 cases of nervous and mental disease, 40,000 cases of disease of the eye, 70,000 ailments of the ear and a large group of surgical cases drawn from the 200,000 wounds received in the war, some 45,000 cases of men who were discharged on account of some surgical disability and some 30,000 men rejected at the mobilization camps for ailments of a surgical nature. The benefits which this vast number may receive include hospital and "out patient" treatment and all necessary prosthetic devices, such as artificial eyes, eyeglasses, braces, crutches, wheel chairs and artificial limbs.

Entitled to Benefits.

The benefits which congress has provided extend not only to men or women who actually served with the armed forces of the United States, but also to those who were accepted by draft boards and dispatched to mobilization camps, many of whom incurred disease or injury while en route or while awaiting acceptance by the military authorities.

In addition to this huge medical practice, the chief medical advisor of the bureau of war risk insurance, who is responsible to Colonel Cholmeley-Jones for the performance of these functions, is charged with the duty of determining the degree of disability which the patients of this huge practice have received while in the service of their country. He is, in addition, the chief medical advisor of the largest insurance company in the world and must perform the usual functions in connection with physical examinations and medical proofs of death. In order that his day's work may be well rounded out, the chief medical advisor is also the medical officer to the 10,000 employees of the bureau of war risk insurance; and just as the stop-gap, last time hang heavy on his hands, he is also the sanitary officer in order that this small army of workers may be kept in perfect health and do their work under favorable sanitary conditions.

Despite its large size this is a constantly growing practice, and there are times when the facilities for the care and treatment of its patients have been crowded to the utmost. Since August 1, 1918, the number of patients in hospital has more than doubled. On that date there were 4,500 beds occupied by war risk insurance patients. On January 12, 1920, there were 10,229 beds so occupied. Of that number there were 3,654 cases of tuberculosis, 3,416 nervous and mental cases and 3,159 general cases. The public health service, which is the field medical organization of the war risk insurance bureau, has 5,468 in hospital, and various civil institutions are carrying some 4,771.

Artificial Limbs Supplied.

An index of the scale on which the furnishing of prosthetic devices is carried out is given by the fact that on the latter date mentioned above, 2,014 artificial limbs had been supplied. Of these, 1,704 are permanent artificial limbs and 1,170 permanent artificial arms. There were some 3,800 major amputations during the war, of which 2,259 were of the lower limb and 1,520 of the arm. The 896 stumps remaining will receive permanent artificial limbs as soon as their amputation stumps have reached such a condition that a well fitting and comfortable apparatus can be supplied.

To carry on the operations mentioned above the public health service has assigned 60 medical officers to the bureau of war risk insurance and some 300 more to the various hospitals and offices in the field. It has expended its hospital bed capacity from less than 1,200 to more than 8,000, and in a communication recently transmitted to congress by the secretary of the treasury it is estimated that at least 20,000 beds will be constantly necessary to care for the men and women who have acquired an illness or received an injury in the great war. A large proportion of the war risk patients can be returned to health and usefulness. A certain number will require prolonged hospitalization in order that a cure may be effected; a certain number may be brought to such a condition of mental and bodily health that, after training by the federal board for vocational education, they will be able to pursue a substantially painful vocation. Some, unfortunately, will be doomed to a life of chronic invalidism, while in a certain proportion of the cases neither recovery nor improvement may be hoped for and they will be translated into the peace of the great beyond.

Kindly Humanity Prevails.

The spirit of broad-minded, kindly humanity pervades the conduct of the gigantic medical operations described above. The United States is divided into 14 districts, each with a medical officer of the United States public health service in charge, he having as assistants a corps of expert specialists as consultants. There are neuro-psychiatrists to care for those suffering from nervous and mental disease. There are general surgeons, orthopedic surgeons, neurosurgeons and orthopedists. There are highly specialized clinicians to make the physical examinations, as an aid to which the service of X-ray experts, bacteriologists and other laboratory specialists are employed. There are special sanatoria for the tuberculous, a separate colony for the epileptic, hospitals for the insane and special psychopathic institutions for the reception of the sufferers from lesser mental ailments. The bureau of war risk insurance maintains a corps of designated examiners of more than 1,000 ex-medical officers of the army and navy, operating on a fee basis and so placed geographically that the claimant will be obliged to travel the minimum distance from his home in order to receive medical examination or treatment.

An intimate liaison is maintained with the surgeon general of the army and navy so that upon the discharge of a soldier, sailor or marine requiring further treatment he may be immediately transferred to an institution for the treatment of war risk insurance patients. The various military and naval hospitals throughout the United States are visited from time to time by special boards of medical officers from the bureau of war risk insurance to examine men who hold war risk insurance policies and who are believed to have become permanently and totally disabled. It may be explained in passing that in such cases the insurance policy issued by the bureau of war risk insurance matures from the date of the total and permanent disability, and frequently this means that such persons receive immediately a not inconsiderable sum of money from the bureau of war risk insurance at the rate of $5.76 per $1,000 of insurance held. This action is taken irrespective of the insured's continuance in or discharge from the military service.

BIG ALLIGATOR CAUGHT

Animal Kept His Mouth Open and That Was His Undoing.
W. K. Hurst, who is wintering in St. Petersburg, Fla., recently assisted in the capture of a 21-foot alligator.

"One was discovered in a shallow bayou, not more than 35 feet from bank to bank," he said, describing the capture. "Nine men took sufficient ropes and a powerful truck, and went after him."

"The surroundings were a veritable jungle. All that could be seen of him was about one-half from the tail up; the balance of the body was submerged."

"Arriving on the bank, one man took a long bamboo pole and poked Mr. Alligator in the head, when he came that member with the jaws wide open. Another man threw a noose over the upper jaw, and made a fine catch."

"Then all hands grabbed the rope and the animal began to struggle for dear life. He rolled over and over, thrashing the mud and water in all directions."

"When opportunity offered, another noose was thrown over the lower jaw, making a scissors lock hold. They kept him turning and rolling until he was perfectly helpless."

"He measured 21 feet."

TO TELL "WHITE FATHER"

Klamath Indians on Reservation in Need of Money.

The Jackson, a Klamath Reservation Indian, was at Redding, Cal., after visiting every Pitt Indian in Modoc, Lane, Plumas and Shasta counties for the purpose of ascertaining their needs, and says he is going to Washington to tell the Great White Father that he wants the government to help the needy and starving Indian. He will be accompanied by Charles Green an interpreter.

Jackson declares the Indians on government allotments are not able to make their own living and that the government does not help them. He says the government agent refers needy Indians to the county supervisors, who refer them back to the government agent.

He says the Indians have lots of money in Washington on the result of sales of timber and grazing lands, but that this money does not do the needy Indian in the four counties any good.

Spanish Sardines.

The principal industry of Vigo, Spain, is sardine packing. The Vigo sardine furnishes almost one-fourth of the world's production of sardines. The exports of sardines in 1919 amounted to 1,917,000 cases of 500 sardines each, with an estimated total value of $2,000,000.

Possible Platinum Beds.

Possible sources of supply of platinum are the river gravels in southern Oregon, where further prospecting is required, and various districts in North Carolina, and the stream placers in Alaska, which are being investigated by the United States geological survey.

Let's settle this right now!

No man ever smoked a better cigarette than Camel!

YOU certainly get what you're looking for in a cigarette when you smoke Camels—all the refreshing flavor, all the mellow-mildness, all the desirable body any smoker ever did desire!

In fact, to your taste, Camels combine every joyous feature that could make a cigarette supreme! That's why Camels are a cigarette revelation!

Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes Camels unlike any cigarette you ever smoked. My, how their smoothness will appeal to you, and how it does permit you to smoke Camels liberally without tiring your taste! You will prefer Camels blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You'll find Camels a delight in so many new ways! For instance, they leave no unpleasant cigarette after-taste nor unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels quality and Camels blend are so unusual you'll find them unequalled by any cigarette in the world at any price! You so appreciate Camels quality you do not look for coupons, gifts or premiums!

Camel

CIGARETTES

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes, or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a Glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

MARNE MEMORIAL POSTER

JUST as the school children of France gave for their country's gift to the United States—the Statue of Liberty—so will American school children contribute "one cent and upward" for "America's Gift to France," a monumental statue by Frederick MacMonnies, the noted American sculptor. Mr. MacMonnies is contributing his services toward the monument which, it is estimated, will cost $250,000.

The poster shown herewith, is by Albert Sterner, noted American portrait painter. It typifies the tribute which this country will pay to the French through the Marne monument. The poster will be displayed in cities, towns, and villages, and will designate many of the places where contributions may be made during the week of March 22—a free-will offering, in which numbers of contributors, rather than size of contributions, will be sought from school children and others.

Contributions are now being received at National Headquarters, 120 Nassau street, New York, by Charles H. Davis, president of one of New York's largest trust companies, who is treasurer of the fund.

The monument will be erected at

Pretty New York School Girl Helps Spread Appeal for Pennine for "America's Gift to France."

Meets on the Marne, and will stand in size and grandeur of French the Statue of Liberty.

What Amazes Dad.

Just because Dad is a role model, he is not so much in a position to play a part in the world as he is in the expression of his face.

Anything Better Than Unbelief. I would rather dwell in the dim and off-superstition than in the narrow and nothing by the air of unbelief. Dear Paul Radford.

HE'S REAL!

He registers joy, sorrow, pleasure, and anger and all the other emotions just as they are registered by the fellow who washes the dishes at home or by the chum who brings the bon bon every Saturday night.

Who? Will Rogers. He hasn't fancy; he hasn't got big blue eyes and a baby stare. He hasn't got curly hair or cupid bow lips. He's a regular fellow. He's human and he's real. He's an honest-to-goodness down-to-earth human being.

That's why you just can't help loving him. That's why you'll want to see "Jubilo," the story of a hobo who stumbles into a strange land of work and romance via a big train held-up. Will Rogers is the soldier of misfortune. You'll sympathize with him, laugh with him and find more entertainment in his misadventures than you've ever found in one picture before.

"Hello" Old Wolf Call

The old wolf hunter's call was used in France first and afterward in England, but there are no wolves in England now and the huzle call has been forgotten in both countries, therefore we "pout it green and call it our own." French is spoken in English court circles, so the titled wolf hunters used the French cry of "bab le loup" or "a lou loup" (loup being pronounced loo), the cry being "a la loo"; the English put on the H and made it hullo, and we made it hello, which is an American expression, as all the telephone girls know.—Boys' Life.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, March 22.—At a meeting of the village board of trustees held Friday evening, March 19, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved, that this board petition the State Labor Commission to permit the contractor for the concrete pavement through Main and Market streets and Ulster avenue to enter into an agreement with his employees to work ten hours a day, provided, however, that the rate of wages for such emergency work shall be proportionate to the prevailing rate of wages for a day of eight hours, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Labor Commission. Also the following resolution was adopted: Whereas, laborers employed by Wagner & Braun, contractors for the state highway, through the village of Saugerties, built during the months of September, October and November, 1916, which contract was abandoned by Wagner & Braun, who were bonded by the National Surety Company, have never been paid, although the state of New York and the village of Saugerties have enjoyed the fruits of their work, and which said laborers unpaid number over twenty, and for claims aggregating over five hundred dollars. It was resolved that an effort should be made to obtain the moneys belonging to said laborers before said claims are outlawed, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the governor of the state, the state highway commission, the superintendent of insurance, the attorney general and the industrial commission, asking them to intercede in behalf of said laborers to obtain the amount due.

George Magley of Newburgh was a Sunday guest of his parents here.

Mrs. Philip Vining of New Salem visited Mrs. I. D. Churchwell on Thursday.

A number from this place attended the dance given by the P. O. S. of A. in Elmore Hall, Esopus, on Wednesday evening.

The Five Hundred Card Club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Van Aken on Thursday evening.

William Schryver and C. C. DuMond have purchased new horses.

I. D. Churchwell has installed a pipeless furnace in his home. Lester Vining of New Salem did the work.

A meeting will be held in Odd Fellows' Hall Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, under the management of the Farm Bureau. Plans will be discussed for the work to be done by the Farm Bureau in this vicinity during the coming year, also the idea of having a spraying expert for Ulster county will be taken up.

Unknown Influences.

The rhythmic law of nature merits wide study. But we have collected enough evidence to show that body growth in children, body weight in adults, appetite for food, fitness for work, the recurrence of illness, periodic mental depression, tendency to crime, impulsion to suicide, rise and fall of blood temperature, and falling in love are all influenced by a mysterious revolution.

"Best Health In Years"—From Internal Baths

Miss Frances Herrod, care of Pleasant-Jarrill Grocery Company Little Rock, Ark., writes "Brooklyn Hygiene Institute, of New York, as follows:

"I am very glad to tell you that I am more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of the 'J. E. L. Cascade,' and am in better health than I have been in years."

This is but one of thousands of the same kind of letters received by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, the inventor of the "J. E. L. Cascade."

By a purely natural process of properly using warm water, the "J. E. L. Cascade" removes all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, which poisons the body is the cause of 50% of all human ailments.

McLure Drug Stores, Inc., 225 Wall street and 421 Broadway, Kingston, have filled an enormous demand for "J. E. L. Cascade" in the past few years and will show and explain it to you on request. An interesting booklet on internal bathing—"Why Men of Today are 75% Liable"—can be obtained at their stores free of any cost.

KYSERIKE.

Kyserike, March 22.—Mrs. Ollie Davis is improving nicely and enjoys a sleighride each day when the weather is favorable.

There will be a number of changes made in the vicinity of Kyserike in April; some parties moving out and new residents coming in.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Arnold expect to move in their new home purchased by them, April 1. This was formerly the Isaac Alliger homestead, before being sold to Cornelius Terwilliger, whose heirs sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold.

Sunday was certainly a fine day, indicating spring is on its way. Blue birds were heard in this place in the morning.

Residents in this section of the town are wondering if there is a commissioner of highways in the town of Rochester, as some of the roads are not open yet for traffic.

After his being notified they were closed and no attention as yet has been given them. After being elected in office, they seem to forget they have some duties to perform for the traveling public, but what are the taxpayers paying for? Not to ride in the farmers' fields, but on the public highway, and if the roads are made possible, what is the money used for?

NEW INDUSTRY AT ROSENDALE

Hotel Bonnie Dore to be Remodeled For Textile Factory—Former Owner, Alan MacKenzie, Will Improve and Rebuild on Moorabek Property. Alan MacKenzie has conveyed to Francesca Merigosa and others of Brooklyn, N. Y., the Hotel Bonnie Dore at Rosendale. The property is situated in the center of the village and consists of a large substantial four story brick building and wing with an extensive frontage on Main street running back to the Rondout creek. The new owners will at once remodel the building for the reception of machinery and hope to be prepared to commence the manufacture of textiles early in the fall, the consideration was around ten thousand dollars. After extensive improvements Mr. MacKenzie will occupy the Moorabek property on Main street, recently purchased from the Ulster County Savings Institution, and continue to reside in the village.

THIEVES FOILED
SUNDAY EVENING

An Unsuccessful Attempt Made To Burglarize Store Of M. Clyde Crosby on Broadway—Three Young Men Held Awaiting Police Investigation.

Three young men giving their names and ages as Walter Hall, 19 years, David Thomas, 18 years, and James Dunn, 19 years, all of Brooklyn, are being held in the county jail until the police have a chance to investigate their stories. They were picked up on a charge of loitering around the West 30th railroad station Sunday evening by Policeman Dempsey following a general alarm sent out by police headquarters to investigate an attempted burglary of the store of M. Clyde Crosby on Broadway, near Thomas street. They were arraigned before Judge Schirck this morning, but denied all knowledge of the attempted burglary.

The attempt to burglarize the store occurred about 10 o'clock Sunday evening. Entrance to the building was secured from the rear, the thieves breaking in a cellar window which opened into a coal bin. The coal bin had a lock on the door which the thieves broke open.

From the cellar they walked up the stairs and were busy breaking in a panel in the door leading into the store when Mrs. Becker, who resides over the store, heard a noise and, investigating, saw two men at work on the door. She immediately telephoned the police.

Evidently the would-be burglars became frightened before the police arrived they had made their escape without obtaining entrance to the store or stealing anything of value.

Some time ago the store was broken into and a small amount of merchandise stolen. At that time the same plan of obtaining entrance was taken as that of Sunday evening.

This morning Judge Schirck adjourned the hearing in the case of the three young men for two days and, unable to furnish bail, they were remanded to jail.

On the Other Side.
Little Philip had cried all night with toothache and upon receiving a nickel the next morning he went as usual to get candy again. His aunt, on coming home, and finding he had bought candy with her nickel, asked him: "Why, Philip, I thought you weren't ever going to eat candy again?" To which he replied: "Well, auntie, I'm not eating this candy on the toothache side."

K. H. S. GIRLS
BEAT CORNWALL

Saturday afternoon the High School Girls' Varsity defeated the Cornwall Girls' Varsity in the local high school gymnasium with a score of 12-4.

Kingston's girls had everything their own way throughout the game and Cornwall didn't score until the second half. The score was 6-0 at the end of the first half.

The teams have played against each other before at Cornwall and Cornwall won. Now with a Kingston victory the teams are even. Possibly the deciding game will be played some time in the near future.

Miss Simpson was the high point getter of the game, scoring three field baskets. The score:

K. H. S. G.	FB.	FT.	TP.
Carroll, J.	1	0	2
DuFon, J.	0	2	2
Simpson, E.	3	0	6
Van Williams, G.	1	0	2

Confirmation Classes.

The services, both morning and evening, at the Spring Street German Lutheran Church on Sunday, were well attended. At the morning service the German class of six catechumens and at the evening service the English class of eleven catechumens were examined by the pastor. The examination showed that the children had received thorough instruction and was pleasing to the congregation. Besides these two classes, a class of ten men and women is being instructed and will be confirmed on Pentecost.

Dr. Dugan Goes to Trenton.

The Rev. Dr. George Dugan has resigned the pastorate of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Albany, the resignation to take effect April 29, in order to accept the pastorate of Trenton, N. J. Dr. Dugan has been in Albany over nine years, coming there from New York city, where he organized the Presbyterian Labor Temple. While in Albany he was active in Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Masonic work and in all war work activities. He has addressed audiences in Kingston several times, and has many friends here.

Easter Church Concert.

The 17th annual Easter concert of the Spring Street German Lutheran Church will be held on the evenings of April 11 and 15. An interesting program of motion scenes, dialogues and a play has been arranged.

ST. JOHN'S NOTES.

Week's Activities at Wall Street Church.

There will be a regular meeting of the Parish Aid Society held at the parish house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the regular Lenten service will be held, the subject of the address being, "The Sacred Scriptures: How Shall I Use Them?"

There will be a service of the Litany and Holy Communion on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Kijikuit Club will meet with Mrs. Reed at her home, on Crown street on Thursday evening for the usual Lenten work.

The special preacher for the Friday evening Lenten service will be Archdeacon Pitt.

Next Sunday, Palm Sunday will be fittingly observed.

Contributions for flowers for the Easter decorating of the church may now be made.

Directly following Easter, the Men's Club will resume its sessions, and the president, Postmaster DeWitt, is preparing an especially interesting program for these meetings.

Three Generations of Loyal Service—

SEVENTY years ago the New York Central Railroad ran the first local train between New York and Peekskill. Patrick Boylan, who had worked for years as engine-tender and fireman, was its engineer. Full of honors and good deeds, the life of Patrick Boylan came to an end, but William, his son, trained in the tradition and practice of the engineer's calling by his father, daily runs his switch engine at Harmon. William the second, grandson of Patrick, still following the family tradition, is a passenger brakeman on the Hudson River Division. Vincent, son of William the first, works in the Equipment Department. Margaret, his sister, is in the office of the Auditor of Passenger Accounts.

The Boylans are no prouder of this record than are we. Three generations of loyal service—it is fine to have given them; it is fine to have inspired such devotion. The organization which can thus hold the good-will of a family from father to son and grandsons is more than mechanically efficient. It is human.

If we are able to give the public an efficient and satisfactory railroad service, it is largely because we have thousands of employees as faithful and loyal as the Boylans. We know your interests and ours could be in no better hands.

HEARING TUESDAY ON BEER BILLS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., March 23.—All pending beer and light wine bills in the legislature will be given a hearing before the assembly excise committee and the senate judiciary committee next Tuesday afternoon.

Decision to this effect was made after a conference between Speaker Sweet of the assembly, Majority Leader J. Henry Walters of the senate and Colonel Ransom H. Gillett, sponsor for the 2.50 per cent beer and 10 per cent wine bill in the assembly. The hearing will be held in the assembly chamber.

MORE AURORA

Welcome If It Brings Such Weather With It.

If the "Northern Lights" which so brilliantly decorated the skies Monday evening are harbingers of such weather as today brings, let us have more of them. Seldom in these latitudes or at this season of the year does the Aurora manifest itself as majestically as last night when its mysterious, waving curtains, from 7:30 o'clock on, hung in shimmering colorful folds from the zenith to the northern horizon.

Early yesterday the telegraph and telephone wires began to register the presence of the Aurora in the air and business over them went on as best it might until the "static" disappeared and the earth and air currents had become stabilized again.

Scientists noted also unusually large spots upon the sun which are often a forerunner of such displays.

Why Scots Would Ban "Macbeth."
A resolution demanding the elimination of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" from school curricula on the ground that it was a libel on the Scotch in its "misinterpretation in presenting King Macbeth as a traitor and murderer," was adopted at New York by the League of Scottish Veterans of the World war.

The resolution was addressed to the Newark (N. J.) board of education which recently barred "The Merchant of Venice" from the schools because of the alleged slander to the Jewish race.

"If they have banned Shylock, I see no reason why they should not ban Macbeth," said Capt. Ian McTavish. "If the Jewish ghederine is to be cleaned they should also remove the stain from the Scottish kilt."

Why Pastor Is Worried.
From California comes the story of a woman who made her pastor heir to $87,000 on condition he would take care of 85 canaries, 31 dogs, 18 cats, and a bunch of rabbits. He is getting along pretty well with most of the menagerie, the story goes, but the rabbits are multiplying so rapidly he fears he will be unable to spend all the money to buy a ranch for them a year from now.

VICK'S VAPORUB

offers a new way to treat croup and cold troubles

THE OLD WAY

Treatment by internal dosing, which does not reach direct to the affected parts and which frequently does derange the digestion.

DIRECTIONS FOR THE USE OF VICKS

Vapors Important.—For diseases of the respiratory organs, such as colds, a large part of the value of Vicks lies in its vaporizing qualities. Therefore, whenever Vicks is applied over the throat and chest, care should be taken to leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

Hot Wet Cloths.—In cases of very severe colds, sore throat, coughs, incipient pneumonia, etc., hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin before applying Vicks.

Fresh Air.—Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom is the best way to prevent colds and lung troubles. Fresh air does not cause colds; it strengthens the lungs, enabling the system to throw off colds.

Asthma.—Vicks is not a "cure" for asthma—so far as we know, there is no cure. In many cases, however, Vicks does give relief. Rub it well over the spinal column, from the neck to the hips to relieve the nervous tension. Then apply freely over throat and chest at bed time and cover with hot flannels. Renew frequently and always have the covers loose, so that the vapors may be freely inhaled. Also melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors and apply a little up the nostrils.

Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Colds in the Chest.—If a severe case, first apply hot, wet towels over the throat and chest. Then rub Vicks in well until the skin is red, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot, flannel cloths.

Catarth, Colds in the Head.—Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors. Also apply well up the nostrils. There are so many varieties of catarth that a competent physician should always be consulted. For many forms, however, Vicks is excellent. Dissolve a half teaspoonful of salt in a pint of warm water and snuff up the nostrils night and morning. Then insert Vicks freely up the nostrils as far as possible, snuffing well back into the air passages.

Children's Colds.—Vicks is particularly valuable in treating children's colds, since it is an external treatment, and therefore, does not disturb the delicate digestions of children. The best plan is to keep Vicks constantly on hand and apply freely and often at the first sign of "sniffles."

Growing children require plenty of fresh air and exercise and should be COLDS are simply inflammation or congestion of the mucous membrane or lining of the respiratory organs—air passages and lungs. They should be treated just as surface inflammations, such as Burns or Bruises are treated—that is, the medication should be applied directly to the inflamed parts. Internal medication going to the stomach does not reach directly the affected parts. But medication cannot be applied directly to the air passages and lungs except in the form of vapors that can be inhaled; and, until the discovery of Vicks's VapoRub, there was no efficient, economical method of supplying these vapors.

THE NEW WAY

Treatment by Vicks's VapoRub, which is applied externally—relieving by inhalation as a vapor and by absorption and stimulation through the skin.

kept in the open as much as possible, even in the winter.

Coughs.—Apply Vicks as directed for Colds in the Chest and Head, and if the cough is very annoying, swallow, every few hours, a small piece the size of a pea.

Croup.—Sneezing.—Rub Vicks freely over chest and throat until the difficult breathing is relieved. One application is usually enough. To prevent croup during the night, give a good application over the throat and chest at bed time and cover with hot, flannel cloths.

Influenza.—In spite of the epidemic last winter, very little is known of this disease—even the germ causing it is not yet definitely located and no specific for influenza so far as known has been discovered. In all cases a physician should be called promptly.

Vicks is to be used as an external application in connection with the physician's treatment. Apply as directed for Pneumonia.

To Avoid Influenza.—Influenza is a spit-borne disease, and when inhaled the germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages. Even this is not absolutely certain, but it is agreed by most authorities that keeping the system in good condition and the air passages stimulated and free from colds is the best way to avoid the disease.

Melting a little Vicks in a spoon at night and breathing the vapors, and applying well up the nostrils several times a day, particularly when in crowds, is recommended.

Pneumonia.—(1) Send for your physician at the first sign of pneumonia. (2) Immediately begin the use of Vicks as an external application. For pneumonia, Vicks is applied somewhat as directed for Deep Chest Colds—see full directions in the Directions Folder.

Tonsillitis.—Apply as directed for Sore Throat.

Whooping Cough.—This is a self-limited disease, running a course which varies from a few weeks to several months. There is no known specific—Vicks is of value in easing the cough paroxysms, and thus lessening their weakening effect on the system. Rub Vicks well over the spinal column, from the neck to the hips, to relieve the nervous tension. Then apply over throat and chest, covering with hot flannels.

Vicks is Not Meant to Replace the Physician.—At the first symptoms of a serious illness, such as pneumonia, a physician should always be called. Many other troubles, such as chronic catarrh or continued headache, call for the diagnosis of a good doctor.

Vicks Acts Both Externally and Internally

VICK'S VAPORUB is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, L. Richardson, who found a way to combine the standard, time-tested remedies—Menthol, Camphor, Turpentine, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Juniper, etc.—in salve form, so that when Vicks is applied to the body, these ingredients are vaporized by the body heat.

INTERNALLY, these vapors, inhaled with each breath all night long, carry the medication direct to the air passages and lungs.

EXTERNALLY, Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the affected parts and aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the inflammation or congestion.

How the Use of Vicks Has Grown

Starting with the customers of Mr. Richardson's retail drug store, the use of Vicks has increased county by county, state by state, until now more than 17 million jars are used annually—practically one jar for every family in the United States—and this in spite of the fact that Vicks is still a new treatment to many people in the North and West. Once used, Vicks is a friend for life—it is so easily applied—so quick in its results.

LEE WILL TALK ON MEXICO HERE

Under Auspices of Chamber of Commerce—Address Will Be Delivered Wednesday Evening in High School and Public Is Invited—Admission Free.

The forum committee of the Chamber of Commerce has secured the services of T. Fitz Lee, who represents the National Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico, to address the public of Kingston on Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium. Mr. Lee's topic will be "Behind the Smoke Screen—Mexico." The address will not be of any political or sectarian nature, but will be an educational address upon conditions that exist in Mexico at the present time, and conditions that have existed there for several years past. This lecture will be given absolutely without cost and there will be no admission charged. The general public is cordially invited to be present that evening. Mexico and the Mexican situation is one of the most important topics before the country today and Mr. Lee is well qualified to speak on the Mexican question.

The following extract from a speech of Ira Jewell Williams before the League of Free Nations Association on December 20 will give an idea of the conditions which Mr. Lee will describe in detail: There is a wrong point of view toward the murders and outrages of Americans and the numerous other disturbances throughout Mexico. "Oh," you may say, "it is to be expected that these outrages and murders will occur because it is like any other border country. Conditions are pioneer conditions. You cannot expect law and order." But we must bear in mind that the civilization of Mexico is older than our own. After the turbulence of three score years of revolutions, Porfirio Diaz was able to establish tranquility so that, I am told, one could travel throughout Mexico with greater safety than in many parts of the United States. In the sense of border warfare it is not a new country. And there is no reason inherent in the subject matter why these numerous outrages and murders of Americans should take place. I traveled through the most important fields of Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz, further south than the Tuxpan river and met the Americans there. Almost all were young men and almost all had been in the service here or overseas. My spirit rejoiced within when I saw such splendid young American manhood. There is nowhere, I venture to say, a finer lot of young men than along the Gulf and the Tamaulipas lagoons, on the Tuxpan river and the Tancitarin river. And many of these men who did not see service either overseas or at home faced bravely the nameless dread of death, saw their companions shot down, disarmed, and yet stayed at their posts of danger in the time of their country's need. These men gave true patriotic service "that the flag of freedom might still float on the seven seas and that justice might not perish from the earth."

TYPHUS GRIPS ALL POLAND

By Telegram to The Freeman, New York, March 23.—A whole nation in peril of being wiped out by typhus is the startling cable report received by Felix Warburg, head of the Joint Distribution Committee, American Jewish Relief disbursement organization from Dr. Julius Goldman, European director-general of Jewish Relief Work, upon his recent arrival in Warsaw to assume charge of American Jewish Relief organization.

"Dreadful typhus epidemic affecting 95 percent of the population of Poland," Dr. Goldman cabled. "Undernourishment makes it impossible to combat typhus and other diseases."

To help combat the frightful epidemic which spread to Poland from Siberia and which threatens to overrun all of Eastern Europe, $100,000 from American Jewish Relief funds has been appropriated for the immediate purchase of fuel with which to operate sanitation machinery, particularly delousing and sterilizing apparatus. Instead of purchasing anti-typhus medicine, as had been intended, Jewish Relief workers urged the purchase of fuel, as the epidemic could be fought more successfully with sterilizing machinery than with medicine.

"Census shows 2,500,000 Jews in extreme destitution," Dr. Goldman's cable began. "High premature death rate partly due to exposure and lack of clothing. Present child food allowance one-third normal daily requirements. Our feeding of 300,000 Jewish children only reaches half the country. Expected closing of this agency on account exhaustion of funds will be great catastrophe. Seventy percent population undernourished in health. Mortality increasing daily. Must have immediately 10,000 tons of flour monthly and other food stuffs in proportion. Must have clothing and shoes for at least one million people."

ESOPUS.

Esopus, March 22.—A business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Every member is earnestly requested to be present. The hour of meeting will be 2:15.

Rev. G. W. Budd returned from a visit to New York city, where he attended the Inter-church World Movement convention, on Wednesday last, and on Sunday morning, as a preface to his sermon gave an interesting account of some of the things which he saw and heard at the convention.

Miss Helen Cole spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cole.

The weekly prayer meeting will be held at the parsonage on Thursday evening of this week.

Quite a few automobiles have been seen on the state road during the past week.

FERTILIZER SUPPLY SHORT

Because of a shortage of both mixed and unimixed fertilizers, farmers are advised by those who are watching the situation closely to get their spring supply early; otherwise they may be disappointed at seeding time.

Replies to inquiries made by the state college of agriculture at Ithaca to a large number of companies supplying fertilizers and fertilizing materials to the New York state trade indicate that there is a 25 per cent shortage in production of fertilizers and about a 10 per cent increase in demand.

This situation has apparently been brought about by a long strike in the Florida hard rock phosphate field, the inability of the railroads to move rock phosphate and other raw materials to the manufacturing plants, and the inadequacy of ocean shipping facilities to bring a large supply of auriferous potash from Europe, and of nitrate of soda from South America.

Replies dated from February 16 to 21 showed that two firms had no acid phosphate available for spring delivery; that one could supply only mixed goods, that four could supply acid phosphate with mixed goods, and that six had fair stocks of acid phosphate which are on the market without restriction.

Owing to the slow movement of local freight, orders for less than full cars the college says had best be obtained from local dealers, many of whom have on hand fair supplies of acid phosphate and of mixed goods.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, March 23.—Mrs. M. Kelsch and daughter, Hilda, and Miss Anna Bruck of Kingston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dorr on Stout avenue.

Keep in mind the conference supper and entertainment to be held in the Methodist Church tonight. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Thomas Dunn and daughter, Bessie, of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dorr on Stout avenue Sunday.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church will be held Wednesday afternoon, March 31, at 3 o'clock in the chapel.

Mrs. Phoebe Ostrander of Kingston was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert DuBois on Bayard street Sunday.

Radiant New Raiment for Easter With The Charm of Spring in Line and Fabric

Because of the prestige that is ours in matters pertaining to apparel, our patrons know that the modes launched here are absolutely authentic. Our Easter collection of styles only serve to strengthen this confidence in our ability to show the newest and best first, in most gratifying variety. The coats, suits, frocks and other articles of smart attire, we now present, represent the choicest interpretations of their individual modes. They are novel, different and uncommonly attractive. The woman who assembles her new wardrobe with the aid of this display is assured of getting the utmost in quality and style distinction at a moderate price.

Attractive NEW EASTER SUITS Unsurpassed Assortments Reasonable Prices

SEE THESE SPECIALS

LADIES' TRICOTINE SUIT—Notch collar, ripple back slashed to the waist line, large button trimming on the sides, strictly tailored number, fancy navy and white figured lining, smart garment.

Price $76.00.

LADIES' SERGE SUIT—In navy and black, tuxedo collar with an over collar of pongee, button and stitched trim, two plaits in back of coat giving fullness. An excellent suit, from 36 to 46.

Price $43.97.

OXFORD SUIT—Chic, smart garment, shawl collar, narrow strap belt, plait down center back, studded with buttons, button trimmed sleeve. Good looking.

Price $37.97.

CHILDREN'S APPAREL FOR EASTER

To make adorable children look even more adorable is evidently the purpose of these Easter Coats and Frocks. They are fairylike in fabric and line and the colors from which one may choose are many.

Children's Coats $8.98 to $21.00

Children's Dresses White, 6 to 14 years. $5.50 to $13.97.

Children's Silk Dresses 18 to 14 years. $12.47 to $20.00.

Frocks Offer Diversity in Styling

Trim and trig, the frocks of tricotine and serge adopt silk braid, embroideries and oft times gorgeous vests as trimming. As costumes for the street they are incomparable inasmuch as they do away with the necessity of wearing outer wraps.

The frocks for afternoons are noticeably more frivolous in development. While taffetas in billowy, bouffant effects are undeniably the most popular, frocks of clinging tricolettes, shimmering satins and sheer georgettes are close seconds.

The wide-at-the-hip silhouette prevails, but here are plenty of bewitching straightline modes, too. Choice is offered of navy blue, brown, black and many new Spring colorings. $35 to $60.

Fashion's Favorite Coats

Are well represented in this comprehensive assemblage of Easter modes. Here are alluring coats in three-quarter or full length styles, as well as dozens of irresistible coats of dashing brevity. Fabrics range from rough tweeds for utility wear to soft duvetyns, distended pockets, embroideries and self cordings are effectively employed as trimmings.

Those who make selection here will have the advantage of unusual variety in styling and choice of all the wanted colorings of Spring.

SPRINGTIME'S FAVORED BLOUSES

Dainty and fetching in style, moderate in price.

GEORGETTE BLOUSES

In all the new Spring shades, kimono cut and long sleeves, many embroidered and bead trimmed, others with lace and tuck trimming.

Prices $5.97 to $17.98 Each.

LINGERIE BLOUSES—In white with colored trimmings, others in colored organdies, white collars and cuffs, and others in fine batiste and French voiles, hand drawn, hand embroidered with neat lace trimmings to suit the most exacting. We invite your inspection of this colossal showing of Spring Blouses.

Prices $1.59 to $7.00
